APPENDIX

Investment Knowledge:

- Limited/Novice* – You have only invested in simple securities such as savings bonds or well-known common shares largely based on the advice of others.
- Fair* – You have some knowledge or experience with investments and/or credit products, including bonds, stocks, mutual funds, term deposits or real estate.
- Good* – You have either traded in or have reasonable knowledge of the characteristics of both fixed income securities and common shares, as well as an understanding of the degree of risk and reward inherent in these types of securities.
- High/Sophisticated* – You have a good business background, follow the markets regularly and have traded in and understand most types of investment securities.

Risk Tolerance:

- Low* – The low risk rating applies to investors who are willing to accept lower returns in order to preserve their principal. Investments under the low risk rating include investments with low volatility such as money market funds and/or Canadian fixed income funds.
- Low to Medium* – The low to medium risk rating applies to investors who are seeking a balance between safety and return on their investment. Investments under the low to medium risk rating include investments with a low to medium volatility and may include fixed income securities or balanced funds.
- Medium* – The medium risk rating applies to investors who are seeking moderate growth over a longer period of time. Investments under the medium risk rating include investments with medium volatility and may include equity portfolios that are well diversified across a broad number of Canadian and/or international equity securities and across a number of economic sectors.
- Medium to High* – The medium to high risk rating applies to investors who are seeking long-term growth. Investments under the medium to high risk rating include investments with medium to high volatility and may include investments in equity funds that concentrate their investments in specific regions or in specific sectors of the economy.
- High* – The high risk rating applies to investors who are growth oriented and are willing to accept significant short-term fluctuations in portfolio value in exchange for potentially higher long-term returns. Investments under the high risk rating include investments with high volatility and may include investment funds that concentrate their investments predominantly in specific regions or in specific sectors of the economy where there is a substantial risk of loss (i.e., emerging markets and precious metals); labour-sponsored venture capital funds, or funds that engage in speculative trading strategies including hedge funds that invest in derivatives, short sell or use leverage.
